

The Real Stories Behind the Headlines: An Interview with Congressman Ro Khanna

Q: What was your motivation for writing this book?

A: I wrote this book because I believe that the American people deserve to know the truth about what is happening in our country. The Trump administration has been marked by lies, corruption, and incompetence, and I believe that it is important to document these events for history.

Q: You have been a vocal critic of the Trump administration. What do you think is the most important thing that the American people need to know about the Trump presidency?

A: I think the most important thing that the American people need to know about the Trump presidency is that it is a threat to our democracy. Trump has repeatedly attacked the rule of law, the free press, and the independence of the judiciary. He has also sought to undermine the integrity of our elections. These are all fundamental pillars of our democracy, and Trump's attacks on them are a threat to our way of life.

Q: Your book is titled "The Real Stories Behind the Headlines." What do you think is the most important story that the media has missed or mischaracterized?

A: I think the most important story that the media has missed is the story of the Trump administration's corruption. Trump and his associates have engaged in a wide range of corrupt activities, including self-dealing, obstruction of justice, and campaign finance violations. These activities have been largely ignored by the media, but they are a serious threat to our democracy.

Q: What are your hopes for the future of the country?

A: I am hopeful that the American people will wake up to the threat that Trump poses to our democracy and that they will vote him out of office in 2020. I also hope that we will elect a new generation of leaders who are committed to fighting for the values that have made America great.
