

Unveiling the Essence of Faith of Our Own: A Journey of Empowerment and Spirituality

Faith of Our Own was founded by Reverend Barbara Cawthorne Craft, a visionary spiritual leader who sought to create a welcoming and inclusive space where individuals could explore their spirituality without the constraints of dogma or external judgment. Inspired by the Quaker tradition and a deep reverence for all faiths, Craft envisioned a movement that would empower people to find their own unique path to spiritual fulfillment.

At the heart of Faith of Our Own lie a set of guiding principles that serve as the foundation for its teachings and practices:

- Empowerment and Responsibility: Faith of Our Own empowers individuals to take an active role in their spiritual growth, fostering a sense of personal agency and responsibility for their actions and choices.
